(1)  Suzanne takes you down to her place near the river
               A
     You can hear the boats go by, you can spend the night beside her
               E
     And you know that she's half crazy but that's why you want to be there
               G#mi                          A
     And she feeds you tea and oranges that come all the way from China
                E                            A
     And just when you mean to tell her that you have no love to give her
                E                                  F#mi
     She gets you on her wavelength and she lets her river answer that you've always been her lover

               G#mi                              A
(R1) And you want to travel with her, you want to travel blind
     And you know that she can trust you
                  A                                      E
     For you've touched her perfect body with you mind

(2)  And Jesus was a sailor when he walked upon the water
     And he spent a long time watching from his lonely wooden tower
     And when he knew for certain only drowning men could see him
     He said: ``All men will be sailors then until the sea shall free them''
     But he himself was broken long before the sky would open Forsaken, almost human he sank beneath your wisdom like a stone

(R2) And you want to travel with him, you want to travel blind
     And you think maybe you'll trust him
     For he's touched your perfect body with his mind

(3)  Now Suzanne takes your hand and she leads you to the river
     She is wearing rags and feathers from Salvation Army counters
     And the sun pours down like honey on our lady of the harbour
     And she shows you where to look among the garbage and the flowers
     There are heroes in the seaweed, there are children in the morning
     They are leaning out for love, they will lean that way forever while Suzanne holds the mirror

(R3) And you want to travel with her, you want to travel blind
     And you know that you can trust her
     For she's touched your perfect body with her mind
